

BEACHEY SWOOPS TO SALUTE GIRLS AND DEALS DEATH

Noted Aviator Loses Control and His Aeroplane Kills Miss Ruth Hildreth and Fatally Injures Sister.

GIRLS ON HOUSE TOP WHEN HIT BY AIRSHIP

With the Girls Were Lieutenants Richardson and Belinger, of the Army Aviation Corps.

Rochester, N. Y., October 7.—Miss Ruth Hildreth, daughter of W. E. Hildreth, of New York, and her sister, Dorothy Hildreth, were fatally injured this afternoon in Hammondport, when Lincoln Beachey lost control of a 100 horsepower aeroplane and it swept a number of spectators off a roof from which they were watching the exhibition.

Ruth Hildreth was fractured. Among those slightly hurt were Lieutenants Richardson and Belinger, of the United States aviation corps, and Beachey.

The accident occurred near the head of Lake Umbagog, where Beachey is said to have planned to make a somersault in the air. A crowd had gathered for the exhibition.

Beachey Dipped to Salute. To gain a good view the Misses Hildreth and the navy officers climbed to the top of a small building used as headquarters by naval aviators.

Beachey recognized the party and dipped his machine in salute. They waved. The aeroplane went to the end of the field, turned and came back. When it was over the heads of the Hildreth party the machine was seen to dip. The aeroplane came close to the party and the girls were watching the aviator and wrecking the machine.

Both Girls Unconscious. Ruth Hildreth was unconscious when spectators reached the scene. Blood gushing from a gaping wound in her head. Her sister was unconscious, but Lieutenants Belinger and Richardson were not. Lieutenants Hildreth sustained a broken arm and her condition is said to be critical. Lieutenants Belinger and Richardson escaped with cuts and bruises that are not serious. Beachey sprained an arm and ankle.

Beachey Lost Control. Beachey said that he reached a point directly over the naval building, but he lost control of his machine because his foot slipped from one of the controls.

Ruth Hildreth was about twenty years old and her sister is about two years younger. They had been visiting at Lake Umbagog, N. Y., where the family has a summer residence. Hildreth's home here is in Flushing, L. I.

OTTELEY IS HONORED BY FELLOW BANKERS

Chosen President of Clearing House Section—Working to Bring Bankers to Atlanta.

Boston, October 7.—Four sectional meetings were held today preliminary to the formal opening of the convention of the American Bankers' association tomorrow. Each of the sections which met today elected officers for the coming year.

The state secretaries section chose W. J. Henry, of New York, as president, and W. H. Hall, of Iowa, secretary-treasurer.

The savings bank section elected as its president J. F. Sartor, of Los Angeles.

The next officers of the clearing house section are: President, J. A. Otteley, Atlanta, Ga.; Vice president, A. O. Wilson, St. Louis. In the trust company section J. H. Galt, of Cleveland, Ohio, was chosen president.

A spirited contest is indicated for the next meeting of the association, when the clearing house section is seeking the privilege of entertaining the next convention of the association at Atlanta, which is hoped for winning.

FOUR THOUSAND FANS SEE GIANTS BEATEN BY PITCHER

Giants Used Three Pitchers, But to No Avail—Bender, Cool and Crafty, Pitched the Entire Game.

BAKER AND COLLINS HIT WHEN HITS MEANT RUNS

New York, October 7.—Outbiting and outdueling the New York Giants in the opening game of the world series, the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the National League representatives at Polo ground this afternoon by a score of six runs to four.

So complete was the supremacy of the American league champions in the initial contest that the victory appeared to be but a continuation of the series of last year when the Athletics won the title of that year from the Giants by four games out of six. It is to be remembered that the Athletics were several features of the series were reproduced, so clearly did they resemble those of twenty-four months ago.

The game was witnessed by a gathering of spectators that taxed the capacity of the stadium. The crowd swelled the coffers of those financially interested to the extent of more than $75,000.

Certainly the home team made the day's receipts amounted to $75,000. These figures, as furnished by the National Commission, occasioned surprise for the attendance fell short by more than 2,000 of that of the first game of 1911, although so far as could be seen there appeared to be just as many persons present as was the case two years ago.

Great Drilled Advantage. The number of fans who paid admission to the stands was $7,500, and the day's receipts amounted to $75,000. Hundreds Gather at Constitution to Hear World Series Detail; Same Excellent Service Will Be Furnished Fans This Afternoon

Just a part of the great throng that heard the game in New York detailed in Atlanta by The Constitution.

"O-O-O-O, Grandpa—Mr. Grandpa made a home run." He was a boy high on the Giants' shoulder. Grandpa had no free hand. With that disengaged member he wiped off his hat and in a staccato voice gave a "retel yell" that vibrated down Alabama street like the high pitched note of a great pipe organ.

Massed about the old man and his grandson stood over fifteen hundred Athletics fans. The Constitution's detail of the game was a great pipe organ. The Constitution's detail of the game was a great pipe organ. The Constitution's detail of the game was a great pipe organ.

ATLANTA'S SCHOOLS MENACE TO HEALTH OF YOUNG CHILDREN

Despite Conditions, However, City Officials, With Few Exceptions, Are Apathetic Over the Situation.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXES FAVORED BY WOODWARD

Mayor Opposes Bond Issue as Remedy—What Is Atlanta Going to Do to Safeguard Health of Little Ones?

Editor Constitution: Your paper deserves the thanks of all people for your article and editorial today on the deplorable state of our schools. It is a disgrace to the city of Atlanta that the health of our children is so endangered.

What is the solution? A complete protest from the people of the city will be of much service. It is a disgrace to the city of Atlanta that the health of our children is so endangered.

But the present emergency admits of no delay. The provisions now being made to meet the present demand are totally inadequate. In addition to the absolute necessity of having more school buildings and two new buildings for negroes in order to properly house the city's children, we are faced with the problem of having more school buildings in our country of half Atlanta's size.

WASHINGTON ACCLAIMS STEPHENS' POSTAL POLICY

By John Corbin, Jr. Washington, October 7.—(Special.)—Theodore Stephens, general manager of the railway mail service, has captured political Washington without raising a peep of protest.

The utterances of the new head of the mail service are heralded as the finishing stroke to what is a significant and rather astonishing efficiency in keeping with the highest standards of the service.

Stephens' Constitution carrying the striking address was eagerly read. The general approval of the speech is a significant and rather astonishing efficiency in keeping with the highest standards of the service.

FOR SULZER'S SAKE SARECKY SADDLES SELF WITH BLAME

Youth, Who Is Alien, Swears He Concealed Campaign Gifts and Imitated Sulzer's Signature to Deceive Bank.

SULZER WAS WILLING TO BOW TO "BOSSSES" Ryan Swears Sulzer Begged Murphy to Call Off the Prosecution, Promising to Do What Was Right.

Albany, N. Y., October 7.—Governor William Sulzer recently attempted to negotiate a bargain with Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall leader, to have his impeachment trial "called off" by Allen A. Ryan, son of the New York banker and traction magnate, testified at the trial today.

If Murphy was willing to "test his following to vote that the assembly had no right to impeach him," the governor, according to Ryan, "was willing to do whatever was right."

The testimony proved the calling by the defense of Louis A. Sarecky, the governor's campaign secretary, and Sarecky, a youth of 27, shouldered the blame for the quashing of unreported contributions from the governor's campaign statement, on which he had imitated the governor's signature to deceive a bank, and admitted that he, an alien born in Russia, and never naturalized, had been promoted from the position of the governor's stenographer to the head of the department of the state hospital commission.

Ryan's story of the governor's alleged effort to make peace with the leader of Tammany Hall was his second recital of an attempt on the part of the governor to obtain political support to stop the trial. Ryan testified that he, a son of the governor, asked him to get the New York republican state chairman, William Barnes, Jr., to influence the republican members of the court of impeachment to vote for the president trial illegal.

ATLANTA "BOOSTERS" CHEERED BY KNOXVILLE

Exposition Officials Give Visitors Warm Welcome—Atlantans Say Exposition Is Great.

Knoxville, Tenn., October 7.—(Special.)—This was Atlanta day at the National Conservative exposition, and more than two hundred "boosters" from the Georgia metropolis flocked to the celebration. The delegation from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce arrived in the city at 10 o'clock this morning, having made the trip in a special train, appropriately placarded so as to show that the passengers were from "The City of the South."

At the station the delegation was met by representatives of the exposition committee and other Knoxvilleans and were escorted to the handsome club house, which was headquarters for the delegation while its members were out at the exhibition grounds. A little before noon a score of large automobiles assembled in the grounds during the afternoon, but the visitors were taken for a ride to points of interest and around the city and then to the exposition grounds at about 1:30 o'clock.

Drum Corps in Evidence.
No formal exercises were held on the grounds during the afternoon, but with the drum corps of the Atlanta Aerie of Eagles, thirty-five strong, in the van, the delegation marched through the grounds, visiting all the buildings and "boosters" and the exhibits possible. The visitors were the guests of the exposition management.

Atlanta of Course.—Badges worn by the Georgians sufficed, and the wearers were given the freedom of the grounds and shown every possible courtesy.

John E. Freeman, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, was a delegate to the visiting delegation. Mr. Freeman and other members of the delegation, declaring that it was the best they had ever seen, was as good as to say that the exposition was the best city in the world. Knoxville was the best in the south.

Magnitude of Exposition.
They were delighted and also surprised by the magnitude and extent of the exposition, the opinion expressed by the visitors. On the grounds the delegation observed much attention and its members saw to it that everyone knew from what city they hailed. At night the Georgians visited the night show, where the exposition and at 9 o'clock were the guests of honor at a splendid banquet tendered by Knoxville Aerie of Eagles in the city hall.

The banquet was one of the most pretentious and enjoyable functions of the kind held at the exposition. It opened before midnight the Atlanta band led the special train, which left for Atlanta early Wednesday morning.

Shoes and Character

[Elbert Hubbard in The Fra]

An Advertisement
THESE are four prime necessities in life—only four. These are food, clothing, shelter—love. Shoes and hats are a part of our clothing. Also they are accessories to our character. Also they are accessories to our character. Also they are accessories to our character.

Once there were people in America who never wore shoes. Now we all do—part of the time, at least. Americans are the best shod people on earth.

Our consumption of shoes is two hundred seventy millions pairs a year—three pairs to a person. Twenty-five years ago it was two pairs a year per person. We are getting more shoes. Also, as the years have passed, our shoes have been better in style and quality. Most of us, even in common fashions, have different shoes for different occasions. It is better for your feet, and better for your heads, as it lifts our self-respect. When you change your shoes you change your mind.

Shoe manufacturers are a prosperous people. There is no "Shoe Trust" and there can't be, for there are the ten hundred shoe factories in the United States, and more are being formed. I know of six shoe factories in St. Louis, all started by boys and girls, and out of one particular factory and embarked in business on their own accounts. And more are being formed.

Monopoly is out of the question in the shoe business, for the simple reason that any one who wants to start a shoe factory is not obliged to get an outfit of costly machinery. He can lease shoe making machinery and get it on exactly the same terms that the biggest factories can.

Every shoe factory here in the United States is its own machinery and thus keep abreast of the times. It is not a question of cost, but of quality. The shoe maker who does not care for quality will not care for his customers. The shoe maker who does not care for his customers will not care for his business.

Today, the boot and shoe industry is the one large business left in the world not run by a so-called Trust, and the United Shoe Machinery company is responsible for that fact.

A few days ago I was in Boston, and I just took a couple of days off to find out how the United Shoe Machinery company is, what they are, and what they are doing. The shoe maker who does not care for quality will not care for his customers. The shoe maker who does not care for his customers will not care for his business.

We have heard about the increased cost to the consumer by reason of the so-called "Machinery Trust." Suppose the average person who makes shoes. They make upwards of three hundred varieties of machines. Different styles, weights and kinds of shoes require different machinery. There are babies' shoes, children's shoes, women's shoes, men's shoes, shoes for indoors, shoes for outdoors. Some people wear one kind of shoe in the morning, another in the afternoon, and a different one in the evening.

Most of the principal machines made by the United Shoe Machinery company are leased to the manufacturers, although a great majority of the machines they make on a basis of the user so doing.

Practically all of the shoe factories in America lease their machinery. This custom has come down for the past forty years. The reason is that so many different kinds of machines are needed in making a shoe, and new inventions and improvements are so rapid that it is impossible for a shoe factory to own the machinery. It is better to lease it. The shoe factory who does not lease his machinery will not run the risk of getting in a new invention, especially in view of the fact that the machine instead have to be replaced and with something better, cheaper and more effective.

Things are done in the shoe business. We are not aware of ninety-five per cent of manufacturers today who never prefer to lease a machine rather than to purchase it outright. Because a machine is leased, the user doesn't have to be "wrecked." This dread nightmare of an obsolete machine carried on the inventory has made many a good man turn gray before his time.

The business of the United Shoe Machinery company is one of the best examples of successful co-operation in America. Inasmuch as most of the machinery is leased and pays a return only when used, it is self-evident that the machinery must be of a kind that will give a satisfactory service.

The United Shoe Machinery company employ a force of more than five hundred traveling mechanics, who are constantly inspecting the installed machinery and seeing that it is kept in perfect condition. In this manner, like like men, yield no income.

The United Shoe Machinery company keep constantly in their employ a force of about a hundred highly skilled inventors, who are constantly working on new ideas, or perfecting old ones. No machine is ever made good enough. It must be made better.

There are no secrets around the United Shoe Machinery company's works. You see the inventors, the chemists, the workers in the laboratory, and the thousands of happy, healthy people in these wonderful concrete buildings, seventy-five per cent of the work being glass—the sunlight flooding everything—and in some of the buildings ninety per cent is glass.

These great works give employment to upward of five thousand people, and no mill in Massachusetts or in the United States pays an equal wage, the average weekly pay average being $15.75.

I have visited many factories, stores, mills, shops, all over the United States and in England, France, Scotland, Italy and Germany, but never have I seen a big factory managed with the same superb attention to hygiene and sanitary conditions.

In way of factory equipment and so-called factory betterments no institution in America surpasses this, but all of the betterment work is quite incidental and is a matter of course without fuss, fuss and flummery.

Viewed from any and every possible standpoint the United Shoe Machinery company has made the world its debtor. Consumers, employers, inventors, producers of raw stock, stockholders, all are indebted to it. It is a great success because a great service has been rendered. Business, however, is not the end of the matter. It is the operation. The United Shoe Machinery company is a splendid example of all that is good in the world. It is a great success by making it possible for the consumer to buy today for three dollars a better shoe than could be bought a quarter century ago for five dollars. It is a great success by making it possible for the consumer to buy today for three dollars a better shoe than could be bought a quarter century ago for five dollars. It is a great success by making it possible for the consumer to buy today for three dollars a better shoe than could be bought a quarter century ago for five dollars.

And, after all, it is not the test of the worth of a corporation the service it gives to the people?

Forty Thousand Fans See Athletics Defeat Giants; "Home Run" Baker Repeats

Atlanta in the double play of the seventh inning and caused a draw to jump to and down with rage and disappointment. Collins, however, had no monopoly on the hero's glory for John Franklin Baker and Chief Bender, who were both entitled to recognition for their part in the victory. Baker made history again in the grand slam of right field, scoring on the second home run of the series, and he was much the same as in the second game of the series, when he lifted the ball over the fence on a Maxwell. Collins paved the way for an Athletic victory.

Bender threw the credit for out-throwing the ball to the outfield and showing skill and nerve in several trying places when the Giants appeared about to break through his defense and take the game. The tall Indian had both speed and strength in his ball and fielding when his main reason in a manner that fully merited the credit.

Outstanding both Marquand and Bender, who were the heroes of the game, were both of them. Bender, who came back with a home run, was the hero of the game. Bender, who came back with a home run, was the hero of the game. Bender, who came back with a home run, was the hero of the game.

From that hour on all New York Philadelphia to the crowd in good faith. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top.

Once the gates rolled back, the standard of a scene of confusion and excitement. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top.

Long before noon, the lower sections of the grandstand were filled with the crowd. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top.

Streich, Fletcher sent a grounder past the pitcher to start, but Schaner's beautiful throw to Collins beat him and the side was out.

The American league champions went out in order in the second inning. Collins, who was the hero of the game, was the hero of the game. Collins, who was the hero of the game, was the hero of the game.

The Giants broke the ice in the third inning when Bender was touched by two hits. Bender, who was the hero of the game, was the hero of the game. Bender, who was the hero of the game, was the hero of the game.

Both of them scored on Schaner's throw. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top.

The crowd was quiet as the wonder of the hit started to spread. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top. The crowd was so large that the stadium was filled to the top.

ROTARY CLUB FUND AMOUNTS TO $2,097.03

It Is Expected That the Amount
Will Be $2,500 by Tonight.

The Rotary club in charge of the Associated Charities $2,000 fund has collected $2,097.03 to date. Additional promises of cash were forthcoming Tuesday. With these promises added to what is actually in hand, the managers of the fund see $2,500 by tonight. The amount leaves $500 still to be collected.

At a luncheon of the Rotary club members Tuesday noon the actual cash on hand was reported, but owing to the absence of two officers, in charge of the work, who is out of the city, the actual status of the fund could not be ascertained, other than the total amount collected.

Mr. Allen will return to the city today and late this afternoon the last struggle will be made to gather in the needed cash.

Over to the associated charities at its meeting Tuesday night, the members of the Rotary club having pledged themselves to contribute to the fund, thus assuring the charity organization of permanent and further activity in this city.
